KNOW THE RULES BEFORE YOU USE!

The Fourth of July holiday is a busy time for 911 and first responders. The best way to submit a fireworks or fireworks-related complaint is at FireworksReport.com. If you call 911 or the non-emergency line, call takers are less available to answer 911 calls for true police, fire and medical emergencies.

What do I need to file a complaint at FireworksReport.com?

✳ You'll need to provide your name and phone number, and a valid address where the fireworks violation occurred.

What happens after I submit a complaint?

✳ Information collected from FireworksReport.com is made available to University Place Police electronically or over the radio.

What if there's a fireworks-related fire or injury?

✳ Call 911 for fires, medical emergencies/injuries, or serious in-progress crimes. Only use FireworksReport.com to submit fireworks complaints or to report fireworks violations.

Call 911 for emergencies only - an immediate threat to life/safety or in-progress crime.
